1st. The day we calebrate, the birthday of the national existence of the United States of NorthAmer ics. The eighty-fifth anniversary of the Fourth of July finds as prepared to render it the profoundest bomuge of grateful hearts. On this day, eighty six years ago, the great law was propounded that government can rest properly only on the consent of the governed. On this eighty fifth anniversary, millions of the American people are nffirming, in language neither to he ml understood nor mistaken, that when the consent is solemnly given, it must, and eball be secredly covered. The Tribune thinks it may be a policy

2d. The Constitution of the United States, the supreme law of the people of the United States. An armed attempt by traitors to subvert it is the greatest crime known to history.

Mr. Chairman and Fellow-Citizens: I have come before you to-hight enflating noder some degree of pain from bodily effliction and advenced age, hecause my colleague, Sonator Crittenden [loud cheers], whom you would all dolight to neer, was nashle to come. I come on a mission—thank God it is not a political mission, but a mission to lead my humble vice in bohalf of a Union and a Government threatened by violence in the field and by treachery in the Congress of the United States [Applans]. I only wish that the Abelitionists with whom I have been in conflict this winter at the Cantral would have been here to winess the patriotic feeling that I have witthis winter at the Capital would have been here to winess the patriotic feeling that I have witnessed to night. [Applause] My text shall be, the Union as it was, and the Cousti u ion as it is—the bord of this Union must as dishall be preserved [Loud asplause] Fellow citizens, have been engaged in my own hamble way in the State of Kentricky to prevent the prople of the Loamonwealth from taking that fatal step—ecession. This Union party men of Kentricky have succeeded in quieting the public excitement growing out of the isan norm which the reb-lition is based. Navertheless our position has been misunderstood abroad. It has not been propally estimated. We never entertained the idea of making war up in this Government, which God gave us through the agency of the men of the Revolution and of the Convention that framed the Constitution and of the Convention that framed the Constitution and of the conficuand to ebed our brothers' blook. We wished to preserve a kind of neutrality, and if this war should in its consequences lead to the destinction of the Constitution and the Union, we wanted history to re ord the fact that there was one green spot in the Union in which brother did not war with brother. We sought to interpo. a whenever the occasion should present itself in its hope ful aspect, and asy to the two parties, "Let us the this question between your." Some of for the position of Kentucky. How she has behaved herself in the battle-field is not for me to tell. What she intends to do hereafter locald answer, if it ware not for the mad, hellish measures of the abolitionists (applause). I will not go into the constantion of the causes which have preduced the present unbappy condition of the country; but I must be permitted to give my most unqualified denial and denunciation to the assumption that slavery was the cause (applause). It was the con inused agitation of the question of slivery—the quarrelling and wramping in the Congress of the United States, tending only to alienation between the two sections, and resulting lienation between the two sections, and result in negro thief, did much to widen the breach between the N rih and South. I have heard more than once during the last session, with puin and morification, the remark mide, that no slaveholder could be a Union man. My blood was stirred in my old veins, and I rose in my place, on one occasion, and gave it the lie direct (applause). I met it by saying that eight-tentue of the slave owners in my section of the Union were unconditional Union men, and defired only to restore it to its wonted condition (*Ip ause).

We have been charged with not being Union men, because of our opposition to extraordinary moasures, which were calculated not to restore the Union, but in tear it asunder forever. We measures, which were calculated not to restore the Union, but in tear it asunder forever. We have opposed the dogma that there shall be no union of these States until every slave is free. Applause. I hut utter the language of at least two reprosentatives from your own State when I say this. A voice—They disgrace the State. I do not say that; but I do say they have been a very great smooyance to the peace of the country. [Voices—Who are they? Name them | Mr. Foster and Mr. Sedgwick. [Groans and expressious of disaprobation] We have been gravely told that there can he no Union whole slavery exists—that there will be only revolution. lavery exists-that there will be only revolution I fear there will be no peace unless the abolitioniste throw down their pens and hold their tongues.

Applause. They say that the slave power must be overthrown. What do they mean by the slave by the Constitution. These verbolding States are entitled by the Constitution to a three-fifths representation for all their slaves. If that compromise had not been made, we might have been compelled to linger out a misorable existence under the old Confederation as separate countries, I (Sensation) It made my blood run cold when I heard it, and it made an impression on me that can never be effaced. From that day commerced, can never be eraced. From that day commerced, in my opinion, the organization of sectional parties with the design to destroy the Constitution.

But what injury has the slave power done to the North? Did it not give you the territory northwest of the Onio, out of which have sprang five free Stules? Did it not give you Lonisians, I'exas, and if you please, California? Take the history of the product of the Constitution of t gle? (Applanse) Where was New England (Hisses) Where was Governor Strong's mili-tis? Organized for home consumption—refus lng to cross the lne—refusing to sur-render the command and justifying it. I do not want to say one word to barm eny man; I do no want to say one word to barm eny man; I do no want to denounce the people of Massachusetts at the present time. Although there are some of them very fond of the negro, others, I am happy to say, ere not so. (Lunghter) Let me put the question to you who are civizens of New York: I', after the battle of Bull Run—no, I will not call it a battle—it had been announced that the States and they are the properties and they tim not nice tenths of the men that are now enlisted in the war.

I was struck with the position assumed, at the commencement of this process of accession, by e powerful and influential paper, that took the gr und that the Government ought to let the South go, and not attempt to keep them bink hy any means. (Voices—"Name the paper"—"The Tribune"—groa s) Wby the change in the tone of that paper since it has been held by members of Congress, that the war shall continue tile every slave is fro? Let us lock at this question. Do not misunderstand me. If I have any desire on earth next to the salvation of the country, it is its restoration as it was. (Applanse) The in the border States also. Our Secretary of the Treasury, under some aw—it must be the higher law, I reckor—is un sriaking to work about 9,000 negroes on firm; a he public expense. The farming interest is un-The public expense. The farming interest is under the military government, and the educational interest is under the civil authority (langhter), and one Mr. Pierce, I believe, has charge of the Civil Department. They tried what they called an egent—they need to be civil doverseers. These egents, however, did not succeed under Mr. Chees's plan; so they tried the plan of putting one negro over u gang of twents, to see that they went to work at the proper time and only at the proper over a gang of twenty, to see that they went to work at the proper time, and quit at the proper time, and quit at the proper time, and did their work as It should be. The consequence was, the negroes rehelled. They said, "fhis is too much like the way we need to did to come here to get free." So they rehelled, and soveral undertook to escape, and were shot by the military. Then a conflict arose between the slvil and military authority, and the difficulties increased. Such is the rainlt of the destruction of the system of labor by emsneipation.

Now, gentlemen, you all went this war ended

Now, gentlomen, you all went this war ended, don't you? (Voice, "yes, yes.") You want the Union and the Constitution restored, do you not? ("Yos, yes.") Then go to work at your ballouoxes; sir up the patriotism of the country. Do not seek, like the secset mists of the South, to redress your grievances out of the Union but in the like the secset mists of the South, to redress your grievances out of the Union but in the like live user government will have no peace unless the Union is restored as it wits. The youngest man that now hears my vide will not live live. nan that the hears my voice will not live long chough to see peace in the Doited States, if the oll-born measures to which I have adverted ball become the law of the land. (Loui applies a) Speeches were also mede by Hon. William bo IIm. John J. Crittender: Wasitington, June 18 h, 1862. GENTLEMEN: I have had the honor to receive our letter of ivitation of the 16.h inst., to ad-ross a meeting of a the citizene of New York, tress a meeting of a the citizene of New York, respective of party, at the Cooper Institute, on he lst day of July next, &c.

I am sensible of the honor done me by your invitation, and gratified for it, but you must permit me to decline its acceptance. If Corgress should not adjourn before the day of your meeting, my emblic duties will require my presence bere; if it is the adjourn, my duty will oblige me in all probability to return to Kentucky without delay.

You eate, gantlemen, that the "object of the hility to return to Kentucky without delay.
You state, gauthemen, that the "object of the meeting is to give expression to the sentiments of our people whi are enposed to the continued agitation of the negro question, and in favor of prosecuting the war for the restoration of the Usion as it was, and maintaining the Constitution as it is, and for no other purposas."

Most sincerely and zealonsly do I concur in the object of your meeting. I trust that your example will be followed, and that popular meetings throughout the whole country will express the same noble and patriotic sentiments.

In these sontimente and a policy conformable to them, we would, in my opinion, find an early reunion and an early meace. How else, or when we can regain those blessicy; I know not.

SMALL CHANGE. - Our business men will no forgst the meeting called at the Court Hons to-night to devise means to meet the inconvenience occasioned by the lack of small silve change. Its scarcity makes retail dealers greatly averse to changing bills. The difficulty is felt sverywhere; the New York Post says that in the restaurants, where small change is each a necessity, the diffictilty is severely felt, and many of the proprietors have sought to remedy it by issuing shinplasters. Generally these are little tickets, with the name and number of the establishment on one side and the words "good for twanty-five cents." or other mentioned sums, or the reverse. In a few instances, however, shin pissters have been issued in the form and of the general sppearance of a bank note. The New York laws are, if possible, more stringent than onr own, and while the ticket may be recognized. those who issue notes subject themselves to legal action as counterfeiters, by violating a law which probibits private individuals from issuing anything "in the similltude" of legal paper money. The shinplasters of New York are generally offered with a small amount of change. Regular customers to the various restaurents and smaller stores will receive them as a matter of courtesy: for it must be acknowledged it is rather bard for a seller, after paying six or seven par cent for silvsr, to be obliged to give it to any one who, after purchasing a dims article, offers a dollar bill in payment. At the same time casual customers remember that the restaurant keepers and others who offer shinplasters have no legel right to do so-that the acceptance of them is a mere act of forbearance, and that they can be refused at will. Shinplasters are unpopular here, although their widesprend introduction seems inev-Itahle. Perhaps it would be better for the seller to charge the purchaser the premium on silver in proportion to the amount of purchese. Thus, on days when silver costs six cents premium, charge the purchaser of a fifty cent article filty-three cents, and so in proportion. This is, in fect, a direct and often en onerous tax, but will prove, after all, unite as acceptable in general trade as the odious shinplaster systam, which should only be applied to regular customers, and after a fair understanding. Acceptance of shinplasters is a conressy at the best, and no seller, either of food drink, or other articles, has a right to offer his petly notes to a stranger in exchange for reggnized monsy.

At the same tims the issuers of these shinplasters, sport from the argnment of necessity, can instiy say that, when they hny an article for fifty cents, they want just fifty cents—no less and no more—and the purchaser has no right to offer them anything but fifty cents, the whole system of "change" heing a pure courtesy on the pert of the seller, and a courtesy which he has "others the right to suspend whenever he thinks hest.

COTTON HAULING AND COTTON BORNING .-The Confederats cavalry ecouring the country north of Memphis on and near the line of the Memphis and Ohio railroad, have, within the past few days, destroyed several inte of cotton collected on plantations and designed for sale in this city. On Tuesday, es we learn from the Argus, three negro bove with drave loaded with cotton, while hetwaen Union depot and Ilickory Withe, on their way to the city, were overtaken by a squad of Confederate cavalry. The negroes, nuies, drays, and cotton ware "confiscated"-the drays burned and the negroes and males taken along. The negroes and teems were owned in Memphis-one of the captured boye, a likely negro, and his team, helug the property of Capt. Dick Tucker, of the night police; another belongs to R B. Jolner, Esq, and the other is a negro well known in the city, named Foster, formerly the property of S. B. Williamson, Esq.

COUNTY SORVEYOR .- In announcing Saturday that Ben. M. Harney, E:q., was a candidate for Surveyor of Jefferson county, we eaid wa preenmed "his election would not be contested." In using this language we inadvertently did injustice to Mr. G. T. Bergmen, who is a candldate for the same office and has aiready surveyed the county and made an admirable map of lt, being a prectical surveyor of many years etanding. As the loyalty of both these gentlemen is above suspiciou and they maintain most excellent charecters as citizens, it does not comport with the position essumed by the Jonnal to take sides with either. We shall be perfectly satisfied with the election of either and whoever is successful we hope he may throw his surveying lines ln pleasant places.

Had the enemy possessed full information of the purposes of our Commanding General they could not have taken better advantage of our position than they did. The fact that our front gave way at blechvilesville on Thursdey, after making a uccessful stand, and fell back toward Gaines's Hill, seems to have suggested to them that general retrograde movement was contemplated and it became their policy to follow and fight u n the retreat. With the Chickshominy in o cros, successfu'ly, under the enemy's fire; and here is no doubt but that they expected to overeke and compel ne to fight or be cut to picces at

On Thursday nearly all the wagone were sen cross to have them out of the way. This move tent was going on all day and night, and, i nown to the enemy, must have revealed the fac that our army was either about to retreat or to change its position. This was too valuable an opportunity to be lost, and was improved to the best advantage. Our troops had been engaged in an exhausting conflict at Michanicsville the dependence of the chief has of eperations, from which whole massee could be drawn at an hour's notice. We were separated from our centre by the bridges of the Chickshominy, from which we could obtain reinforcements only by a comparatively tardy and uncertain process. That they brought nearly hat our army was either about to retreat or to and uncertain process. That they brought nearly their whole force against us on that side of the river shows that a determined effort was to he nade to compel us to cross the river, and then these to the rear and turn our right. Foreseeing this plan, and without the necessarce to guard egainst the movement, the on expedient left was edopted by the commander of the Union forces. The enemy were to be held in check as long as possible, to enable him to easel withdraw his whole force to the James river, and take up a new position. Another day and night would, no doubt, have found our entire right abandoned, and the commands of Porter, McCall and Stoneman withdrawn safely to the left of thickahominy, and the bridges destroyed, with That this was not permitted we owing to the watchfulness of the enemy, or the treason of some one within our lines who rethe treason of some one within our lines who pos-said a knowledge of our plans. A precipitate retreat was out of the question.

It would beve resulted in the sacrifice of the en-tire right wing. With our retreating forces massed in front of the Woodhury and Grepevine oridges, along the river bottoms, a pursuing force ommarding the eminence at Dr. Williams'a ouse would be able to cut them to pieces, or compel a surrender. From the attacking part we here, for the drst time, took a position of defence, and accepted the battle which was offered The enemy's skirmishers made their appearance beyond General Morell's encampment at an early our lutthe morning, and were met by the advance pickets of the 9th Massachusetts, who envance pickets of the 9th Massachusetts, who engaged them sharply, stoadily retlying toward Gaines's Hill. During this hear's contest the 9th Massachusetts lost a considerable number of their men. They fell back slowly and in good order on the road toward Coal Harbor.

Meantime, McCalt's brigade of Penneylvania reserves, and Sykes's brigade of Frgulirs, took up a position upon the high land overlooking the valley of the Chick thominy, essiward of and near the roads leading from Gaines's Hill to Ceal. near the roads leading from Gaines's Hill to Ceal Harbor. Your correspondent arriving at this place just as the troops were coming up, watched with much cere the forming of the line of battle, and the disposition of the troops. Sykes's brigade, consisting of the 31, 4th, 12th, and 13th United States infantry, Duryes'e Zueves, and Weed's battery, commanded by Licuteum t Colonel R. C. Buchanan, were disposed on both sides of the road leading north from Gaines'e Hill, and parallel to the road to Coal Herbor. Hill, and parallel to the road to Coal Herbon The Z mayes were drawn up in the cosn field, fac-ing the line of the enemy's approach, while the regulars were placed to the right, left, and rear in the passage of any considerable body of the rehels to the right. Experience soon showed that this position was well chesen, for it proved, during the day, one of the hottest in the fight. Capt. De Hart's battery was posted further to the left, and directly confronted the rebei line, whose position, though not as yet precisely known, was partially revealed by the sound of his ertillery and musketry hey ond a beit of woods toward Gaines's Hill. Capt. De Hart'e battery consisted of six 12-pounder Napoleon gnns, besides which there was a battery of 3-inch rifled guos, of wronght iron, belonging to the reserves. Capt. Eaton's hattery was a battery of March Capt. Kenn's further to be

This Capl. Eaton, of Dreirsville memory, was massing their forces. We were preparing to repel them. At noon silence was broken by hostile cannon in the extreme front. As the afternoon wore eway, the homhardment increased. At five o'clock there was a battle, and the Arocetook was hurling shell into the woods. At about laws confined to a narrow oircle. Ayres was diving the enemy from his batteries. Our hoat pushed from the landing. At dark we moved from Harrison's Landing, seven miles helow. The army had not moved there. The treins had. Soon after we steamed into the channel, the homhardment grew heavier. The guuboa's were thundering into the forests.

Whan I left the prospect was chesrless. That night we met reinforcements. Bafere morning the army was attengthened. Pray God it was made strong enough—to go to Richmord.

People, you may still rely ou General McClellan, until further displays of capacity. He carried all that army and all his trains through one narrow road, while encompassed by enemies two-fold as strong as his army. overhead, and going neer'y a mile beyond, close up to Williams's house. Capt. Weed opened hie hattery, as did those of Titball', which was sta-tioned near the seme position. The battery of Capt. De Hart also replied vigorousiv. Zouaves, who were drawn np in lina nearest to the anemy, stood motionless and stern, ewaiting the onest, while the Ragulars occupied the field and read, reedy to receive and return the rehel fire as soon as they should get within range. The whiz z z of Minie bullets, and ecream of shell and shot from a dezsn different directions, now showed that the work had begun in earnest. The popple, old, young, white and black, male and formale, eccupying the houses near the field, now ran acrose the field to get under cover of the

The force of the enemy could not be accortained is they kept concealed to a groat extent, end fired cross a small ravine at our line. As they ad vanced, the Zourves end Regulars also met them and sturdily maintained their ground. The position of these batteries and of Sykes's command was not essentially changed during the dey. They held their own under a most terrific fire, and to Weed's and Tidball's batterier is un-questionably due the credit of preventing the flunking of our right.

As the contest thickened, the enemy showed themselves in constantly angmenting numbers. The tide of baltle swayad to the left, and finall embular ce carpe began to bring in the wounded from the field, and soon the hostital was full of the bedly wounded. One mnn, whose arm had heen torn from his shouldsr by a shell, cried with vexation because he could not have time to distharge hie musket.

By 2 o'clock, the woode covering the hill wer

By 2 o'clock, the woode covering the hill were thronged by the two contending armies. The enemy generally advanced in three lines, the first biring and falling down, while that behind repeated the same movement. By the time the third line had discharged their piacos, the first had loeded and were ready to rice end fire egain. Thus the battle reged, the enemy at times giving way before the impetuous charges of our men, and again recovering and advancing. The fiercest portion of the fight was near the brow of the hill. Batteries thundered, muskerry reared, the hill. Batteries thnudered, musketry reared, and the diu and noise of the contouding forces

It was apparent that the rebele were constantly hringing fresh troops upon the field, and there was literally no end to their number. As soon as it could be done, orders were sent a few moments staggered the rebel lines by their percistont and courageous conduct. A few thou-saud more of such desperate heroes would have turned tha tide of battle. The rebels who fell into onr hands were furiously drank, baving got a supply of whisky from o e of our encampments, where it had been carelessly le't by a commissary.

CAIRO, Jniy 5. The ram Monarch brings news from Vickshurg of the 28th. On Thursday Porter's fleet commenced shelling the upper hattery below town; his continued all day without any result. It was renewed on Frday, and in the afternoon it was directed on the town, over which shelle were plainly seen to hurst; this continued until four, when it ceased. During the bembardment the rebel hatteries replied feebly; their firing was inaccurate. Half an hour after the cesseation of the bembardment, the rebel water battery opened he bombardment, the rebel water battery open n our mortar floot, which replied until the hat-ery cessed firing. At 8 P. M. we opened fire com (ur entire fleet upon the town, which continued an hour. The next morning at 4 o'clock the bombardment was renewed, during which eight of Farrsgut's vessels passed the batteries without serious damege. The city must have been greatly dameged, as confligratione were sean in numerous places. We are informed upon indisputable authority that hive thousand negroes have been educated by Canada Bruket works were have been ordered by General Butler to work or the canal across the herd in which Vickshurg of its remains are now situated. The channel thus changed, Vickshurg will become an inland town hereafter. Seven bundred more chells were or-dered from New Orleaus to reduce the remnins of

FOURTH OF JULY AT BARDSTOWN. BARDSTOWN, KY., Jnly 5, 1862.

The day was celebrated in the good old style, with the exception of the use of ardent epirite, which was prohibited by an order from Capt. J. H. Green, Provest Marshal, who, ever on the alert, thought it not only in reason, but calculated to keep "the dey we celebrate" undefiled. At 9 o'clock the Provost Gnard, under the command of Lieut, Haslam, wers pareded in the public quare, and marched from thence to the Bapist church, at which place the young ladice of the county and city joined in the procession, and were marshaled by Capt. Green, Lieut, Kseler, and G. Herding, Eig., from whence they proceeded to Hospital No. 1, where a heautini flag was holeted to the breeze, and martially cheered by the hand led by Mr. Tuttie, when three cheers were solicited by Marshal Green for the Star Stangled Banner; three cheers for the Medical BARDSTOWN, Ky., Jnly 5, 1862, by the hand led by Mir. Itulie, when three choers were solicited by Marshal Green for the Star Stangled Banner; three choers for the Medical Director, Dr. Wm. Newman; the Surgeons in charge of Hospitals No. 1 and 2, Drs. Elliott and McCown; the invalid foldiers of Bardstown; and the Matrons, Stewards, and Waldens of both Hospitals. Dr. Newman then called for three cheers for Capt. Green, the Provost Marshal.

The procession was then ordered forward to the heautiful grove of Mr. Joe Brown, where the Declaration of Independence was read and ably discussed by Judge Linthicum. Mr. Craig, of Louisville, an eminent lawyer of that city, and one of the most elequent and mesterly orators of Kentucky, delivered a thrilling orallon, which was tremandonly applanded. After the oration came the dioner, which wes served atike to soldiers and citizens. At one o'clock came the speech of Mr. W. R. Grigsby, of this county, of an hour's duration, rep ate with sentiment, patriotiem, and devotion to his country. After Mr. Grigsby had finished, Llentenant Keller, in a neat and tasty manner, presented Captain Green with a splendid sword, on hehalf of the Provost Gnard, convalescents and invalids of Bardstown for the very kind and fathethers.

WASHINGTON, July 4 Accounts from Frederickshurg represent the greatest possible distress among the 1th bltants. The 13th Virginia rebel regiment raised in that town having been cut to picess.

WASHINGTON, July 4 The Richmond Exeminer of July 21 gives the following rolating to the battle of wonday. It says on Sunday morning Generals Hill and Longstreet, with their divisions, crossed the Chick-hominy, and late on Munday afternoon attacked the enemy a new five miles northess of Darling los, up the New Market rund. The conflict was lon, on the New Market rund. The corfict was terrible, and by helf-past eight in the evening the enemy had been driven hack a mile and u half. At helf past nine, being beavily reinforced, the enemy med another stand. The loes heron the rebel side was terrible. The eight period being hopeless against such overwhelming forces, Ganerel Hill slowly retired. At this moment, seeing their adversary retire, the most vocifer uncheers arose from the whole Yankee lie. Tha hight ended then for the night. The Exeminer says it thirks the divisions which went into the fight of Friday 14,000 strong could only muster 6,000 men for duty on Thesday, and that the loss of life exceeds that of any hattle or series of hattles yet fought.

About eight o'clock A. M. of Tnesday, the Examiner says, Jeckson's and Hnger's divisions attacked Mc Bellan's left flux on the west side of the Chicaho niny, seventeen miles from Richmond. Later in the day Magrader fell upon his right flux. Fighting was given on until These right flirk. Fighting was going on until Thes-day night. Hearly firing from the gnnboats on James river was heard on Tuesday morning. A number of Federal transports are in the river with reinforcements from Burnsid-, but they have no The above are extrac's from the Examiner rela-
